

broadband over power lines should be offered all across the nation to spur competition. this would also offer an alternative option to those who do not have cable service.